PRELIMINARY PROCEEDINGS

Dr. Crippen and Miss Leneve Formally Committed for Trial on Murder Charge.

For some time the magistrate in the Bow street police court has been hearing the evidence offered by the crown and at the conclusion of these preliminary proceedings today announced that he would hold Crippen on the capital charge, and without expressing an opinion on the evidence against Miss Leneve added that he felt that it was sufficient for him to commit her for trial as an accessory after the fact. When the prosecution had concluded the magistrate proposed to set aside another day upon which Solleitor Arthur Newton, who is representing both of the accused, might make any statement he wished on behalf of the defense. Mr. Newton, however, after saying a few words in favor of Miss Leneve, whom he contended had not been proven guilty, said that he would reserve his defense of Crippen until the trial proper was held.

London, Sept. 21.—Dr. Hawley H. Crippen and his typist, Ethel Clare Leneve, today were formally committed for trial for the murder of the former's wife, Cora Belle Crippen, the American actress, who was known on the stage as Belle Elmore. The doctor is charged as the principal and his companion as an accessory after the fact.

Not a Political Question.

Conservation is not a question of politics or of factions, or of persons. It is a question that affects the vital welfare of all of us—of our children and our children's children. I urge that no good can come from meetings of this sort unless we ascribe to those who take part in them and who are apparently striving worthily in the cause, all proper motives, and unless we judicially consider every measure or method proposed with a view to its effectiveness, in achieving our com-mon purpose, and wholly without re-gard to who proposed it or who will claim the credit for its adoption.— Taft, at St. Paul.
